Privacy/Security Screen Reader 	<h2 style="margin: 0;">FAQ's: FAFSA on the Web</h2> What are the Deadlines for Submissions? Submit no earlier than January 1, 2001 and no later than July 1, 2002. You can go online to check the status of your FAFSA during processing or call the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 800/4-FEDAID (800-433-3243)/TTY: 800/730-8913 or 319/337-5665 Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 12 a.m. EST. To apply for student aid from other sources, see Deadlines. Check with your school's financial aid office for further information on school deadlines. What are the New FAFSA Features? (NOTE: INFORMATION NEEDED) FAFSA Eligibility? The Department of Education uses the information you provide on your FAFSA to determine your eligibility for aid from the federal Student Financial Assistance (SFA) programs. Many states and schools also use the FAFSA to award aid from their programs. See Federal Student Aid Programs and State/School Programs for details. What Documents do I need? Before you begin filling out your FAFSA, you can save time by gathering documents and other information you need to complete your FAFSA. What are the Federal School Codes? The Department of Education assigns a Federal School Code number (previously called a Title IV School Code) to each school that is approved to receive and award federal financial aid for which you want to apply. To find out if your school qualifies, you can do a search using Federal School Codes. How do I answer the question asking about drug-related offenses? A new law suspends federal student aid eligibility for students convicted under federal or state law of possession or sale of drugs (not including alcohol or tobacco). There is a Drug Conviction Worksheet you can use to determine your eligibility. I'm not sure if I want to take out a student loan. What should I enter for the question asking if I am interested in student loans? Answer "Yes" if you will consider taking out a loan. Most students do take out student loans. You can change your mind later. Some schools use this information to put together a financial aid package for you. You are not obligated to accept any aid listed in your financial aid package. If you will consider work-study, answer "Yes" to the question asking if you are interested in work-study as well. You can change your mind later. Answering "No" when you fill out the FAFSA could mean that your school awards its aid funds to other students; you may not have a later opportunity to be awarded aid. I'm now a U.S. citizen but have an Alien Registration Number (ARN). Which box do I check? Check the U.S. citizen box - do not check both, as this would cause a problem with the application. If you have attained citizenship, do not give an ARN. ARNs are associated with being an eligible non-citizen for purposes of applying for federal student aid. I'm going to get married this summer. How do I answer the question that asks if I am married? Answer "Yes" if you are married on the day you sign the FAFSA. Otherwise, answer "No." The FAFSA is a snapshot of your status the day it is signed; it does not forecast changes such as marriage. Why must I report the highest school level my parents completed? Some states and institutions make monies available to support students who are first-generation college students. It also serves statistical purposes. If you don't know the answer, select "Other/unknown."

Completing the FAFSA is the first step in the financial aid process. FAFSA on the Web is faster to submit and help you reach your goal of lowering the cost of higher education. Use this application to apply for federal student grants, work -study money and loans. You can also use FAFSA on the Web to apply for most state and some private aid. <h3>How do I apply for aid?</h3> Completing the FAFSA is the first step in the financial aid process. It will take the Department of Education 3-4 weeks to process your FAFSA and send you a Student Aid Report (SAR) by mail. Your SAR will summarize the data you report on your application. Check this information carefully to make sure it is accurate. Keep a copy of your SAR. If your FAFSA information is complete, an Expected Family Contribution (EFC) will be printed in the upper right hand corner of the first page of your SAR. Your EFC will be based on the financial information you provide on the FAFSA, and your school will use it to award your financial aid. <h3>How much time does it take to complete a FAFSA?</h3> The Department of Education estimates that for first-time users, FAFSA on the Web will take between 45 minutes and an hour and 15 minutes to complete. It takes less time to complete Renewals and Corrections. You can save your FAFSA for later any time you want before you submit it. See Time to Complete for time-saving tips. Privacy & Security

If your FAFSA information is complete, you'll find the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) printed in the upper right hand corner of your SAR. Financial aid administrators at the schools you listed on your FAFSA use the EFC to award aid from their programs. Many other states and schools also use the EFC. How do schools use the EFC? The school to which you are applying uses your SAR (Student Aid Report) to prepare a financial aid package to help meet your financial need. Financial need is the difference between your school's cost of attendance (including living expenses), as calculated by your school and your EFC (Estimated Family Contribution). What else determines the amount of aid I may receive? The amount of your financial aid award also depends in part on whether you're a full -time or part-time student; you attend school for a full academic year or less; you believe you have special circumstances such as unusual medical or dental expenses Where can I find more information? The financial aid office at the school you plan to attend is the best place to begin your search for free information. It's like the PIN that you get from your bank that gives you to access your account. Because your PIN serves as your electronic signature, you should not give it to anyone. <h3>How do get my PIN?</h3> To request a PIN, go to the Pin Site. For your security, the process requires you to provide your Social Security Number, the first two characters of your last name, and your date of birth. <h3>What if I forget my PIN?</h3> If you have lost or forgotten your PIN you will need to request the PIN be sent to you again. Go to the Pin Site and select "Send me another copy of my PIN" from the menu bar to request a duplicate of your PIN. <h3>How do I report a change of address?</h3> If you already have a U.S. Department of Education PIN, you can use the PIN Application Form to update your PIN mailing address. The PIN mailing address is the address where we mail your PIN. Enter your personal information, print the signature page, submit your PIN application information and you receive confirmation of receipt. <h3>Why do I need a FAFSA password?</h3> While you are filling out your FAFSA, you can save it for later any time you want. We will automatically save your data to our secure database. To do so we need you to submit a password. You must remember your password to retrieve your saved application, complete and submit it. This is to protect you and your information. After you have submitted your FAFSA, you don't need your password anymore. Your PIN will be your identifier. If you forget your password, you cannot retrieve the FAFSA you saved. Neither Customer Service nor the U.S. Department of Education has a record of your password due to security reasons. This is to protect you and your information. If you had a saved FAFSA on the Web, Renewal FAFSA on the Web or Corrections on the Web and have forgotten your password, you will need to start over.

Encryption uses a mathematical formula to scramble your data into a format that is unreadable by anyone who might intercept your data. If your browser is configured correctly, encryption is done automatically when you connect to the FAFSA on the Web server by software included with your Netscape Navigator or Microsoft Internet Explorer browser. If you are residing in the United States or Canada, you do have some choice as to what level of encryption you use. Encryption strength is measured by the length of its "key", which is expressed in bits. The larger the key, the greater the strength of the encryption. For example, we say throughout the introduction screens of the FAFSA that "international" versions of Navigator and Internet Explorer use 40-bit keys to encrypt data, while "domestic" versions of the same browsers use 56-bit or 128-bit keys. Consequently, the domestic versions of Navigator and Internet Explorer will offer your data stronger protection. In fact, data encrypted with a 128-bit key is approximately 309,485,009,821,345,068,724,781,056 times stronger than data encrypted with a 40-bit key. That's why we recommend you use the domestic version of your preferred browser. To learn more about Privacy & Security please read more >> Privacy & Security
